

NEVE CAMPBELL on the Job

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW

Though she started out as a ballet dancer, Neve Campbell instead found a toe-hold in Hollywood, getting cast in the hit TV series "Party Of Five", and then flexing her acting muscles in such films as Scream, Wild Things, The Craft and 54. With the release of her latest film, I Really Hate My Job (distributed by Mongrel Media), we caught up with the Guelph, Ontario-born actress to talk about her recent work.

Q - I Really Hate My Job features a great ensemble cast. Do you enjoy working in an ensemble situation?

I do love that atmosphere. I think, coming from being a dancer, I like being part of a company and the atmosphere of an ensemble. We had a really delightful time working together. We all got on fantastically, so it was fun.

Q - You have a full nude scene in this film. Is that difficult to do?

It's not easy [laughs]. But you make it the most comfortable situation, and you ask the director to have as few people on the set as possible during the scene. But it's more the idea of it that's scary than actually [doing it]. You just think, 'we've all got...bits', y'know? [laughs]. As long as people are professional about it, it's fine. When I was younger, I was asked to do nudity, and I turned it down a lot, because I did feel it was more about box-office draw than actually about the character. But with this, it made a lot of sense to me because it was a very important moment in the film.

Q - In the film, your character, Abbie, is stressed about turning 30. Is age something you think about, being in the business you're in?

I feel very lucky in the sense that I don't concern myself with my age; I really celebrate getting older. You go through maybe a period of transition where you're not quite right for the young roles and not quite right for the older roles, but I think I've passed that now, and it hasn't stopped me from working. I'm actually really enjoying playing adults [laughs], but there was a good period of time where I was playing teenagers a lot, and that can get frustrating. I actually prefer the more mature, more rounded, stronger characters that are coming along now.
